An Eybna Product

From dry flowers to fresh resin profiles

TERPENES GO LIVE FOR THE FIRST TIME

The Live Line™ captures cannabis at its prime.

Just before harvesting, the cannabis aromatic peak point of the untouched terpene profile expresses a vibrant side of the cannabis plant in its pure and most pungent, desirable form.

A sensory journey to the original flavors of cannabis.

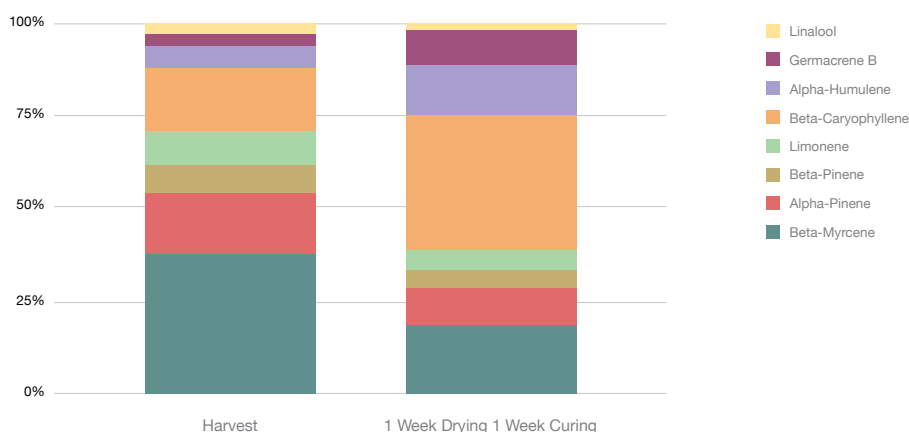

Rare flavors with a different story

While still rooted, the untouched terpene profiles hold prestigious notes characterized with fresh ripe cannabis flowers. As cannabis production traditionally involved drying and curing, these atypical, gourmet flavors are lost. A fine combination of science and art, was the key to tell a story of these rare cannabis flavors that is yet to be told.

Eybna's Headspace Technology

Volatile compounds of the living flowers are captured using in-vivo floral Headspace Technology for a direct collection and measurement. Analyzed via specialized analytical equipment, the terpene content is monitored throughout the cannabis plant life cycle. Revealing the great difference between the cured and live plant profiles.
